Clear Lake State Park Indian Nature Trail Walk

Join Walt Lyon for a morning hike on the Indian Nature Trail at Clear Lake State Park.

The 8:30 a.m. starting time, on June 1st guarantees cool refreshing morning air as you ascend the shady hillside trail to the overlook. Along the way, Walt will share information and interesting tidbits about the native plants beside the path and how they were used by the aboriginal inhabitants of the county and are used today by their descendants.

This is a short, moderate trail. Sturdy shoes are recommended. Meet Walt at the trailhead near the park entrance kiosk. If the parking lot there is congested, additional parking is available in the lot adjacent to the Visitor Center, a brisk 15-minute walk back to the trailhead.

Clear Lake State Park is located at 5300 Soda Bay Road near Kelseyville. Entry fee to the park is waived for those participating in the nature walk.
